CHICAGO

Minneapolis, Detroit Principal Places Pres. Pierce Visited Recently.

The latter part of April President Peirce made a trip to Minneapolis and Chicago in the interest of Kenyon and her proposed new library.

On Friday, April 23rd, the president attended the meeting of the Cincinnati Alumni Association at the University Club at which were gathered about thirty Kenyon men, residing in and about Cincinnati. The following Monday and Tuesday he spent at Minneapolis, the guest of H. S. Gregg of the class of '81. While in Minneapolis he addressed the East and West High Schools of the city and attended luncheons given in his honor at the various clubs. The next day the president visited and addressed the High School at Racine, Wisconsin, and also the St. John Academy at Delafield.

Thursday the 28th Dr. Peirce spent in Chicago where he visited the Chicago Latin School and the Chicago University School, while on Friday he addressed the students of Howe School at Howe, Indiana.

Returning to Chicago on Saturday the president attended the meeting of the Chicago Alumni Association at the Chicago University Club. The plans for the new library were received with great enthusiasm and already the Kenyon men of Chicago have started their campaign to raise the necessary funds.

Monday was spent at Detroit with an address at the University School.

Dr. Peirce returned Monday, May 2.

1913—Class Meeting

A Freshman class meeting was held in Philo Hall, April 28, with President Sparks in the chair. Mr. Wiseman was elected class secretary in place of Mr. Chase. Mr. Hicks and Mr. Snyder were then appointed to fill the vacancies on the class banquet committee. The committee was instructed to make arrangements for a banquet in the near future. The meeting then adjourned.

BASE BALL HOODOO

Sticks to the Team for Three Weeks—Finally Broken by Defeating University of Cincinnati on May 7—Wesleyan, Wooster and Otterbein Triumphant.

Kenyon-Wesleyan

Kenyon lost the first away-from-home game to Wesleyan at Delaware on April 23d. 8 to 3. Daniel the first man up for Wesleyan hit to deep right center for four sacks and this rather put a cramp in the ginger of the battle. Before the inning was over three more runs had been chalked up which proved enough to win.

Hayes, after the first inning, steadied down and pitched very creditable base ball. The weather was cold and disagreeable and first-class base ball was out of the question.

Hardy allowed the Methodists too much freedom on the bases and their pilfering of 13 bags had much to do with the result.

We have a return game with this same team and it is to be hoped that here in Gambier we may administer a good drubbing to St. John's team.

Wooster 7—Kenyon 3

On April 29th the team journeyed to Wooster and the best they could pull out of the fray was a 7 to 3 defeat. Hayes pitched steady ball and should have deserved more than came his way. The infield erred at critical times, however, and this fact coupled with the ability of the Woosterites to slip their bingles in at the opportune time proved enough to put the game on the wrongside.

It must be said that the team hit in hard luck. Time after time healthy swats fell directly into the hands of some waiting fielder. Young, especially was unfortunate in this respect.

This was Wooster's opening game and for a green team they played good ball.

THE NEW RULES

Some of the Changes Proposed in the Foot Ball Rules—A Discussion.

The committee on intercollegiate football seem to be having a pretty hard time in revising the rules. On the one side stands popular opinion, the possibility of state legislation and yellow journalism, while true lovers and students of the game all over the country on the other hand protest against radical changes which tend to make the game too complex and spoil its good points. The next meeting of the committee occurs May 13-14 when the present suggested changes will be revised and adopted.

Already criticism is coming from every quarter against the present suggested revision. The prohibition of the flying tackle has caused a great deal of comment as it seems that this will tend to put a premium on weight and cut out the good light man. The runner and tackle, will also be liable to more serious injury from hard compact than in former cases and it will be much harder to stop open field running.

The most visible change suggested is the division of the game into four periods. Whether this will do the good intended is extremely doubtful. It is a recognized fact that when a person walks four or five miles he is less tired at the end if he has stuck to a fixed stride. It is rare indeed that a player in good healthy condition can not stand the strain of thirty minute halves. Coach Fogg of Case says in regard to this, "I do not believe it is seriously contended that the thirty minute halves were too long or strenuous. I believe that the repeated warmings up and cooling off of the players will be very detrimental to the play and the men will be more liable to injury from exposure than if only two periods were played."

It is understood that if there are four divisions the ball will be put in play at the beginning of the second and fourth divisions exactly in the position in which it lay when the preceeding half ended.

The committee has endeavored to prevent the tackle being pounded as hard as before by requiring seven men on the line and eliminating mass plays. This means the full-back must buck the line alone and as another revision puts an end to pushing or pulling a man carrying the ball through the line, the half backs will have to go ahead or not at all. An increased premium will be put on the quarterback, by the elimination of the rule which required him to go five yards on either side of the center before cutting into the line. This also means that there will be more attempts at end running. It is probable that the defense will be arranged, to a great extent, as in former years.

Everywhere there is a keen interest in the outcome of the Rules Committee meeting and when the new rules have once been adopted every coach will have an equal problem in solving and interpreting them before next fall.

The six changes that have been practically agreed upon by the rules committee are:

1. Removal of five-yard restriction on quarterback runs.
2. Seven men will be required on the line of scrimmage.
3. Diving tackles is to be prohibited.
4. Game is to be divided into four periods.
5. No pushing or pulling of runner with the ball.
6. Limit inside kick to twenty yards beyond line of scrimmage.

Under the change proposed for the forward pass the ball must be thrown and received behind the line of scrimmage instead of heaving the ball down the field as it sometimes was worked.

Otterbein 7—Kenyon 5

A real heart-breaker was the third straight defeat suffered by the locals when Otterbein journeyed up here and for the first time since 1897 carried a victory away from Gambier. They won 7 to 5.

One of those erratic innings tells the tale of the defeat. In all save this one round Otterbein was out—this one round Otterbein was out-pitched, out-hit and out-fielded ours.

The visitors scored a run in the second and got away in the lead. Kenyon promptly tied this up in her half. Then came that third inning. Sanders was tossed out. Cardillo to Axtell. Funk drew a base on balls. Keister hit a pop fly to short left which Williams bingled and then threw high over second trying to get a force on Funk. The latter took third. Then followed in quick succession a hit, two errors, a base on balls, an infield out, (this was only the second one), and Cardillo hit a man. When the smoke cleared away the visitors had 5 more runs and the game.

Kenyon made several valiant attempts to tie up the game and in one instance came within one of the Westerville total, but that was as far as it went.

Cardillo pitched a steady game and with the team batting in good form behind him he should have won.

name of May 7th when the University of Cincinnati was handed a 7 to 2 beating in six innings. The victory was especially well-received since the visitors had just handed awful drubbings to Wittenberg and Denison on Thursday and Friday and had fully determined to make a clean sweep of their three day trip.

Kennedy's wildness lost him the game which was settled in the first inning.

Downe and Bently were hit with the ball. Capt. Hall erred on Young's boulder and the first two hitters scored, Young going to the middle station. Axtell beat out an infield hit and Lord walked. The three did nothing while Kinder fanned and Cardillo popped to the third baseman. Kennedy here took a handy, however, and forced in a run by walking Crippen. He then came right back and struck Hayes out, ending the inning. These three runs were enough to win and the visitors never after that looked especially dangerous.

The game was played in a steady downpour which finally stopped things in the sixth inning with no one out and three Kenyon men on the bags. Despite the wetness Hayes had perfect control and pitched by far his best game of the year. The team played a steady game behind him and he deserved his win. The playing of Downe, the new second sacker, both in the field and at the bat was a joy to the small crowd which braved the weather to see the game.

Of Interest from Harcourt Place Seminary

Dr. Gillette of Columbus who lectured recently for the girls of Harcourt, on the "Care of the Teeth," is a recognized specialist on prevention of dental diseases. The subject is one which deals with unpleasant truths for the most part and so is not, as a rule acceptable to the general public. However Miss Gillette succeeded in interesting her audience and imparted many valuable suggestions.

On Saturday, April 30th, a matinee musical was given in Miss Beckwith's studio. A number of invited guests were present and enjoyed a beautiful and generous program.

Tuesday afternoon, the third of April, the Gymnasium class, under the direction of Miss White, held the annual gymnasium exhibition.

Miss Stone, assistant principal of a prominent girls' school in Rome, Italy, lectured before the school on Friday morning, May 5th on the general subject of art, taking for especial delineation, the many treasures and monuments of ancient and modern Roman art which are to be found in and about Rome. Combined with a sincere appreciation of her subject, Miss Stone possessed the ability to speak on it in a way that was very entertaining.

HALLEY'S COMET

As Seen by Three Fresh Men -- One of Them Writes a Theme.

The following was handed the editor as the first authentic account of Halley's comet since its appearance in this neighborhood:

The evening, or perhaps better the morning was rather raw and cold for the month of May. One could see with remarkable clearness the magnificent constellations as they twinkled and glimmered in the black heaven.

Three Freshmen turned in at the college gate en route for their rooms in Old Kenyon and bed. Far off to the east beyond the great valley of the Kokosing a low range of hills was barely visible. Suddenly one of the members stopped short, pointed through an opening in the trees toward the east with an exclamation of surprise. The other two stopped also and together they looked in silence for a moment.

There, just above the horizon appeared a magnificent white streak of light, trailing from an unusually bright star. To the right the morning star was just clearing the black hills, still further, the moon, in a wonderful crescent shape glowed blood red.

"Halley's comet."

"Well boys we might as well enlist, another war is due."

"What!"

"Past history shows that."

"Well, lets take a good look at her. None of us will ever see her again."

The chimes re-echoed across the silent campus and aroused the Freshmen from their reverie in space back to the possibilities of earthly sleep and the three walked on down the path.

AN OPPORTUNITY

During the next few days there will be held in Gambier a national convention of one of the fraternities with a chapter here. The Collegian is not certain whether this is the first time that a national convention of a fraternity has been held in Gambier, but we are sure that it is the first for many years; and it is certainly the first since the fraternity national convention has grown to its present magnitude.

The Collegian most earnestly hopes that all Kenyon men will unite in making the stay of the visitors in Gambier, which must be necessarily short, as pleasant as possible. Representative college men from all over the country, to many of whom Kenyon is but a name, will carry away some definite impressions of our college and its life. Let us all unite to make these impressions as pleasant as possible.

Aside from this more or less selfish reason, however, there is the fact that we Kenyon men have always taken a pride in doing our best to entertain visiting college men. Let us not now fail in this, the greatest opportunity we have ever had.

COACH SEAMAN'S DEATH

It is with a great deal of regret that the Kenyon student body heard of the death of "Budget"

Seaman, coach at Western Reserve University. During the past few years the Kenyon-Reserve games have proven some of the best events of the football schedules, a fact due perhaps to the good natured rivalry between the schools. Into this spirit of rivalry Mr. Seaman always entered with all his heart. In all these contests Mr. Seaman proved himself a good loser and winner and Kenyon men have always had a warm place in their hearts for the Reserve coach whom they have learned to admire and respect. It is with deep regret therefore that we heard the news of Mr. Seaman's death and desire to convey to Reserve our sympathy over the loss of an excellent coach and a thorough gentleman from their athletic circles.

THE GRADUATE MANAGER

At the last meeting of the assembly a vote was taken on two questions. Each very vital to Kenyon interests. The graduate manager system was adopted without a dissenting vote and it only remains to find the man to fill the office. We are assured that this is provided for, so the student-body may look forward next year to the placing of our athletic affairs on a substantial basis. It seems almost assured that the system will be a success and if the contentions of the adherents of the plan are realized the plan will prove a money saver. Next year will see the experiment tried and the hearty cooperation of the student body should be accorded it.

THE COMMONS

Another question upon which the assembly acted at the last meeting was the commons idea. The committee appointed for the consideration of this question reported it back to the assembly with the recommendation that the question "shall we have a college commons?" be submitted to a ballot vote. This was done and the result was in round numbers fifty to twenty.

In our opinion this does not warrant any further action along these lines. The success of the idea or of any idea depends upon the unanimity of opinion prevailing among the persons affected by the carrying out of the idea. To foist a commons on twenty men in college who are against it would not only be unpolitic, it would result in the failure of the system.

Therefore it appears from the vote that the commons idea is lost. In time perhaps when some of the disadvantages of the present system of boarding become more apparent to the student body at large the commons plan will come to its own and Kenyon men will possess better and cheaper boarding conveniences.

EVIL OF ATHLETICS

The following editorial is taken from the New York Times and is a pointed reminder of some of the abuses of the present athletic idea: Harvard's new President undoubtedly pointed out the fundamental evil of athletics as they exist in many universities when he said that the intercollegiate contest of any sort should be the culmination of a general sport, pursued by a large body of undergraduates, and that the representative "team" should not be, like the gladiators of old, groups of men trained to a special efficiency in activities in which few of the other students take any part except as spectators and contributors of money.

There are certain excellencies and superiorities which, for those with important duties and great opportunities, cost more than they are worth and are actually disgraceful if attained, though in themselves these excellencies and superiorities are innocent or even admirable. According to classic legend—or fable—a Greek King was reproved for lamenting his inability to play the lyre as well as a professional musician, and was told that it would be shameful if he could, since for him the attainment of such skill would mean the neglect of state affairs and royal obligations. He took the reproof in good part, and so should some college boys if they were told that their proficiency in this or that sport or game, instead of being a cause for legitimate pride, revealed a gross ignorance of relative values.

Most colleges, nowadays, condition membership on the terms on the maintenance for something more than average scholarship, but the idea of ten and twenty years ago, that athletics are only for those who can rise to far more than average rank in them, is still far too prevalent among the undergraduates, with the result that the great majority of them are content to exercise only their lungs. The boys who play at all play well—too well, that is, considering that they go to college for mental rather than physical training, and that the latter, when carried too far, is injurious, not beneficial, to the body.

The trained athlete is in a miserable condition for taking up the ordinary work of life, now that, for educated men, the ordinary work of life is largely sedentary. The muscles and heart that make great athletic victories possible are most dangerous possessions for the business or professional man who lack the leisure or the inclination to continue his undergraduate activities, and, instead of bringing from college an accumulation of strength for future use, he is apt to find his hypertrophies soon changing into fatty degeneration, with all its weaknesses and perils. Competitive victories should be incidental to college athletics, not their end or aim.—New York Times.

Ascension

Attention has been called to several much needed reforms about the campus and around the buildings.

First, there has been a tendency on the part of some men to mark up the walls of Ascension. Most unsightly scribbling and sketches have appeared this past year, and the interior of the hall is becoming positively ugly in certain sections. Now, the men know or ought to know that there is no way to get rid of the ugliness which marking on the walls produces. Undoubtedly, thoughtlessness accounts for all of this, but now is the time to begin to think.

There are two things which the board would like to call the attention of the proper authorities to. First, we would like to suggest that the windows in the dormitories be washed once at least during term time. There are many windows in both halls, so greasy that it is painful to try to look through them. As one student has put it, he has to break a window in order to get a clean new pane to see through. Granted, that we do not believe in breaking windows, yet we certainly feel that the urgent duty of those who have charge of the buildings is to see that the windows are washed once more this spring, and before the hop visitors arrive.

For a long time it has been the custom of students rooming in Old Kenyon to tie rigs to the vines in front. This custom has well nigh ruined some of the vines. In this case the student body does not bear all the blame. We are sure that were hitching posts installed, as in front of Hanna, every student who brings a rig to the hall would tie it to the proper place, and so save the ivy. Several large vines have been torn down, and it takes years to replace them. We hope that the proper authorities will not overlook this matter indefinitely.

Leo W. Wertheimer, '99, spent the evening of April 28th on the Hill. He was accompanied by Phil Stanberry, '98, of Cincinnati.

A meeting of the Junior class was held on April 28th. The question of the class banquet was first discussed and it was determined to hold the banquet in Gambier at some time during the coming month. Messrs. Siddall and C. M. Cable were appointed as a committee to fix on a date and make all arrangements for the banquet.

The class voted to give an informal dance in Rosse Hall on the evening of May 7th, and Messrs. Leslie, Farquhar and Wood were appointed a committee to have charge of it.

The intercollegiate prize examination set by the association for promoting interests of church colleges are as follows: Tuesday, May 24, English; Wednesday, May 25, Latin; Thursday, May 26, Greek; Friday, May 27, Mathematics.

Candidates must register their intention to take these examinations not later than May 18th. It is the wish of the college officers that as many students as possible should take advantage of these examinations.

Andy Bickel says that he has replaced every pane of glass in Old Kenyon this spring.

On the 12th, 13th and 14th the annual national convention of the Psi Upsilon fraternity will be held here. The visitors will be on the Hill over Thursday night, coming up from Columbus on a special train. On Friday noon the visitors depart for Columbus where the convention is to be held. It is to be hoped that the weather will prove favorable in order that Gambier Hill may appear in all its beauty.

Dr. Peirce will attend, as usual, the Diocesan convention in Ohio this year. The convention of the Northern Diocese will be held on May 17th while that of Southern Ohio will occur at Piqua, Ohio on May 25.

Last year the convention of the Southern Diocese referred the constitutional question relating to Kenyon college, which was discussed last year, to a committee of five members. This committee will report on the matter at the coming convention.

A special meeting of the Assembly was held at noon on Saturday, May 7. Vice President Sanderson in the chair. On the motion of Mr. Wiseman, which was seconded and carried, a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions concerning the death of Arthur Devol. The following committee was appointed: Sieghrist, '10, Emerine, '10, Wiseman, '10.

Word was received here several days ago of the death of Lloyd Lionel Heald. Mr. Heald was a member of the class of 1909 and there are many men now on the Hill who remember him. Mr. Heald had been in bad health for several years past and up to a short time before his death had been living in the Adirondacks.

The following brief item is a clipping from one of the Buffalo papers:

Dunkirk, May 4.—(Special)—Lloyd Lionel Heald died this forenoon at the family home on W. Fourth street after a long illness. He was born at Woodstock, Vt., on August 17, 1887, and had lived in Dunkirk for four years. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Heald, and two sisters, the Misses Elizabeth and Helen Heald.

S. B. Axtell, '06, has been selected for the crew of the New York Boat Club. This is quite a distinction as the New York Boat Club is one of the most prominent in the East. Mr. Axtell is at present practicing law at No. 1 Broadway.

WILLIAMS

Bishop of Michigan Will Preach the Baccalaureate Sermon.

The Rt. Rev. Charles D. Williams, Bishop of Michigan, has consented to preach the Baccalaureate Sermon this Commencement. Bishop Williams is a loyal Kenyon man in every respect and holds no less than four degrees from this college. He obtained his A. B. degree in '80, and graduated from Bexley four years later. He then was rector of churches at Fernbank, near Cincinnati, Ohio, and at Steubenville, Ohio. While rector there, he obtained his M. A. in 1893. In the same year he accepted the call to the Cathedral at Cleveland, where he was Dean until 1906, when he was elected Bishop of Michigan. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him in 1899, while he was still Dean of the Cathedral. In 1907 Kenyon granted him an L. H. D. It will be a great privilege for Kenyon men to hear an alumnus, who has achieved such prominence in his chosen field.

ANNUAL

Election of Assembly Officers Held On May 2d

The regular May meeting of the Assembly was held on May 2nd. President Bland presided at the opening and dispensed with the "old business" on the calendar. It was moved and seconded that the amendment to the constitution regarding the adoption of the graduate manager system at Kenyon, be taken from the table and voted upon. The vote was taken and the amendment passed.

Mr. Wood reported for the College Commons committee and recommended that a secret ballot be employed in obtaining the will of the student body regarding this matter. It was understood that only a very large majority in favor could carry the point. The report was accepted. The vote was taken and showed fifty-eight 'Ayes' and twenty-three 'Nays'. This was not considered a satisfactory majority.

President Bland next called attention to the fact that according to the constitution the annual elections were to be held at this time and called for nominations for the office of President of the Assembly.

Messrs. Wood, Millspaugh and Sanderson were proposed. They were voted upon and Mr. Wood was elected. President Bland then, in a few well chosen words expressed to the Assembly his sincere appreciation of the way the college men had helped him to make his term of office agreeable and effective.

Amid great applause President Wood finished a short and earnest address, thanking the men for the honor they had bestowed upon him and expressed his determination to "make good," and proceeded to call for nominations to the office of Vice President. ## SAD DEATH

Of Arthur Devol a Great Shock to the Community

The entire college was shocked when on Friday, May 6th the news came that the only son of Professor and Mrs. Devol had passed to the great beyond.

Arthur Lorin Devol was born November 30, 1879. He received his early training at Kenyon Military Academy and was graduated from there with the class of '97. The same fall he entered Kenyon with the 1901 class. In his Sophomore year typhoid fever developed, and it was this disease that led to the malady which caused his death. Out of college a year, he returned to be graduated in 1902 with the highest standing of any in his class. His aim in life had been to be a physician, but ill health prevented his beginning the practice of medicine. After graduation he went to the Southwest, with a surveying party, and remained near the Mexican border and along the Pacific coast for some time, hoping for recovery of health. However, change for the worse set in and he returned to Gambier. The past five years he has been an invalid and for two years has been confined to his home.

He was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity and also Phi Beta Kappa. Mr. Devol was recognized as one of the most brilliant of Kenyon's younger alumni. His death is a great loss both to the alumni and the undergraduates of Kenyon and the deepest sympathy goes out to Professor and Mrs. Devol in their affliction.

Bexley

The following men have been chosen for the rhetorical exercises at Commencement: Messrs. Riblet and Soares from the Senior class, and Messrs. Albus and Haight from the Middlers.

The Rt. Rev. C. D. Williams, '80 A. B., '84 Bex., '07 L. H. D., will preach the baccalaureate sermon for the class of nineteen ten.

The Rev. J. J. Dimon takes up his new duties at St. Andrews, Washington, May 22nd.

Mr. W. O. Leslie, Kenyon '11, will enter Bexley Hall in the fall.

The Rev. Townsend Russell has been spending the past two weeks on the Hill.

The Session of the Summer School will begin on Monday evening, June 13, with a conference at which addresses will be made setting forth its purposes and ideals.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings will be devoted to the presentation and discussion of special subjects:

Tuesday—Social Service, Very Rev. W. T. Summer.

Wednesday — Sunday School Pedagogy, Rev. Herman Page, D. D.

Thursday—The Ministry for the Age, Very Rev. George Hodges, D. D.

The early afternoon of each day will be left free for recreational purposes, and in the late afternoon there will be an out-of-door service with an address.

In the evening of each day there will be an informal clinic for the frank and free discussion of Parish Problems under the leadership of men of large parochial experience.

On Friday morning Dean Hodges will conduct the final session. The school will close on Friday at noon.

MUSICAL NOTES

The Mikado to be Given Commencement Week by the Glee Club.

The "Collegian" hears with a great deal of satisfaction that a presentation of the "Mikado" is to be given during Commencement Week in place of the usual Glee and Mandolin club concert. Loyal Kenyon men always enjoy hearing their musical clubs; that is not to be disputed, but by the time June comes, the program that was sung at "Prom" time and on all the trips, has become pretty well known and its popularity correspondingly doubtful. Moreover, the leaders can never count on having a full complement of men at this time since many leave the Hill as soon as examinations are over. Those who stay find it difficult, if not impossible, to save their voices for the concert because of the lung-racking affairs which precede it. For these and other reasons, the last appearance of the 1909 clubs was not a success; the "Pirates of Penzance," on the other hand presented by the Glee Club of 1908, was far more entertaining than a "cut and dried" concert would have been. The question of expense and added labor naturally arises, but as a comic opera always draws better audiences and gives more pleasure and satisfaction to the participants; both these questions may be dismissed.

The "Mikado" needs no introduction. It is known far and wide and has, for many years, given delight to hundreds of music lovers the world over. There are few who have not already heard it sung, but there are few, on the other hand, who have seen the girls' parts taken by men and the entire cast made up of Glee Club singers. Two of Gilbert and Sullivan's operas have already been given in Gambier with great success and have paved the way for a triumph of this, their noblest work. "Trial by Jury" was given some four years ago and "Pirates of Penzance" by the 1908 Glee Club.

The "Mikado" was first produced at the Savoy theatre in London on the evening of March 14, 1885, and has ever since taken precedence over "Pinafore" and the "Pirates" which it succeeded by a few years. The cast as it is being rehearsed is:

Mikado .....	Lord, '10
Nanki Poo .....	Cable, '11
Ko-Ko .....	Tunks, '10
Pooh Bah .....	Clark, '13
Pish Tush .....	Wiseman, '10
Yum Yum .....	Sparks, '13
Petti Sing .....	Siddall, '11
Peep-Boo .....	Toddy Bently, '11
Katesha .....	Russell, '11
